About the Conference

The recent global financial crisis has paved a way to the evolution of the accounting and Finance industry. To address the concerns raised during this predicament, businesses were restructured to recover from their weak performance. They have learned to adapt to the ever-changing trends in the financial industry. The future of Accounting and Finance is bright according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics which projects a 16% increase in job openings by the year 2017. Numerous emerging trends are shaping the accounting industry today, providing more opportunity and efficiency for firms of all sizes. Some of these trends include: Cloud Accounting, Social Media Strategy, Automation, and Outsourcing. With these accounting trends, the possibilities are endless for companies who want to achieve positive returns. International taxation is the study or determination of tax on a person or business subject to the tax laws of different countries or the international aspects of an individual country's tax laws as the case may be. Governments usually limit the scope of their income taxation in some manner territorially or provide for offsets to taxation relating to extraterritorial income. Such systems of taxation vary widely, and there are no broad general rules. These variations create the potential for double taxation and no taxation. In this background it is become essential to provide a stimulating platform for academicians and practitioners representing commerce fraternity to deliberate and suggest measures that are needed in the global business map.
